Please give feedback on the induction period for your child starting St Bridget's September 2017
I have been very happy with all of the information provided by the teachers, and also the 'open door' policy which really feels genuine. No problems at all.
I am delighted that my children have settled so well so far. They have come out of school happy and full of smiles every day. All the FS2 staff have been wonderful. The mornings and staying for lunch were a great introduction. We're thrilled with the start my child has made at St Bridget's. Miss Daltrey and Mrs Warburton have been very welcoming, with him keen to role-play his day at school when back at home. He's also loved taking very random pictures on the iPad! The induction has been great to introduce him to the concept of school, particularly with the phased approach so the teachers have more capacity to get to know the children.
I am really happy with my son's induction period and more importantly so is he - it has made the transition into St Bridget's easy, happy and relaxed - he is already feeling happy and confident in his new surroundings with his new teacher and teaching assistant - thank you for making the experience so positive
I think it has been good and he has enjoyed starting school but I am not sure he needed such a staggered settling in period. As he previously went to nursery and preschool I think it was actually harder for him as he didn't understand why he couldn't just stay all day and was actually more of an adjustment than if he had just started full time.
My daughter has settled in much better than expected and I'm very pleased with how it has gone. The week of 2 hours in the afternoon is a bit of a pain, but I understand why it had to be done
He has settled in immediately and is really enjoying school life already. The transition has been smooth and uneventful.
Really impressed
Excellent perfectly managed
Overall very positive. We had mornings first, then afternoons. Really supportive for both children and parents. I have loved hearing how happy he is when he comes out. I wonder if the afternoon sessions could also include lunch? I do however appreciate this needs more adult support to support the morning/afternoon session switchover.
It has been fantastic. She has loved getting to know her teachers and classmates. She is eager to go to school each morning and totally at ease.
We have been really pleased with the school introduction all the way from the parents evening early in summer and 'homework' which kept us all engaged in the preparations for his start at St Bridget's. The chance for parents to go into school and hear from the full range of staff was really reassuring. The half days during the first week was great (even though our son was ill for the first 2 days) as were the lovely touches of the gift bag for parents and giving parents the chance to go into the classroom with the children. He would have liked to have been in school for longer each day during the second week but overall it was a very well-considered build up to full days at school and also helped us as parents to work out our routines at both the start and end of the day.

This was very helpful - thank you for the handouts. The school is clearly up-to-date and well organised regarding your approach to the children's learning. The teachers presented all of the information clearly and were open to questions. Thanks again.
Very helpful and well organised.
Really informative and useful evening

Thought the evening was really well organised and presented. Teachers communicated what is expected of the children excellently, very clear and precise. Made us parents feel very comforted knowing the children are in such safe hands. Looking forward to the year ahead! Thanks

It was fantastic to get such useful information in such a professional and warm manner. Both Miss Cotterell and Miss Daltrey made us feel so welcome and that our children are in great hands with a wonderful year ahead of them. Thank you !

We found it a really informative evening. We've both come away with ideas of things we can do as a family to embellish Dexter's learning through the week.

Very informative - I have taken a lot from this evening's presentation and I feel prepared to help Sid in his journey through St Bridget's - thank you

I think it was really useful as it was good to try and understand how the curriculum is going to work and to try and pick up tips for how we can help support his learning at home.

It was very nice. But I feel bad for you giving up your evening - couldn't you have tagged it on to the new starter evening? or just written a detailed letter? Thank you anyway. It is appreciated

The evening was very informative (lots of tasks for the parents to remember!) and helpful in gaining an understanding of the curriculum and what we can do to assist at home.

So informative and delivered really well.

Excellent perfectly managed

Really useful information to enable parents to support learning and systems in school. Although most of this information could have been given for parents to read, personally I appreciated it being a face to face session as I cannot get to school for drop off or pick up. Nice to see Miss Cotterell and Miss Palmer as well as other parents.

Really insightful and great to understand how we can help. Particularly useful to know the reward system.

My wife and I found the evening very useful. It was a great chance to make parents feel part of the journey our children are on. We feel reassured that so much thought and planning has gone into the year and we feel more able to be involved. I also think Rory liked the fact that we are engaging in what he will be doing at school. Specifically, we didn't know about 'Singapore maths' but now we have read about it and can support Rory's learning in a consistent way when at home.
